New India Troops Sent to Border In Tense Truce

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Indian army rushed fresh troops to the Himalayas today as the nation waited out the tense nine-day period of a cease-fire before Red China begins its promised military pullback.

The Chinese too were believed consolidating and reinforcing the startling gains they made in the rugged mountain border areas in 32 days of undeclared war before they proclaimed and put into effect a cease-fire at midnight Wednesday.

Tactically accepting the cease-fire, Indian troops were reported under secret orders to hold their fire unless fired upon. But Prime Minister Nehru refrained from taking a stand on Peking's proposals for ending the conflict.

Red China said she would begin pulling her troops back on Dec. 1. But what would happen then was far from clear. Peking's proposal was widely regarded as an ultimatum which would force India to yield the high Ladakh Plateau on the western end of her border in return for regaining most of the lost border areas in the northeast.

Adopting a wait-and-see attitude, the Indian government went ahead in the lull with emergency measures to put its forces into a better military position after suffering smashing blows.

Nehru still talked of a long hard war. In his first public speech since the cease-fire he took no notice of Peking's declarations.

He called on Indians for a sense of sacrifice to make the country great and to defend hard-won freedom.

Word here that the Chinese may be consolidating their positions awaiting the outcome of the cease-fire may have been based on aerial reconnaissance.

So far there has been no aerial fighting, bombing or strafing by either side.

The Chinese said the cease-fire would be followed by withdrawal to approximately the line that India says is the border in the northeast and to what China says has been its control line in the northwest.

High officials here, as well as loudly outspoken members of Parliament, were determined not to accept this as a permanent arrangement because it would leave to China 12,000 square miles of Ladakh in the northwest.

Since the border dispute became public in 1959, India has repeatedly refused to accept a deal that meant the loss of eastern Ladakh.

Therefore observers here said India may take what benefits it can from the Chinese plan but eventually will have to fight again.

Renewed fighting would begin with stronger foreign support than has come so far.

When the Chinese attacked on Oct. 20, India turned primarily to Britain and the United States to provide rapid-fire infantry weapons desperately needed to match

Missionaries Take Chance On Cease-Fire

CALCUTTA, India (AP)—Defying government advice, three American missionaries have set out toward the uneasy Red Chinese cease-fire line in northeastern India to return to their hospital, the U.S. consulate reported today.

Reluctant to leave their patients at the Baptist Christian Hospital in Tezpur, the missionaries set out across the Brahmaputra River from Gauhati on a 90-mile trek, gambling that the Red Chinese cease-fire will hold.

The Indian government has warned civilians in Tezpur to leave.

The consulate identified the missionaries as Donald Loss and Joseph Schoonmaker, both physicians, and J. Warren Johnson, the hospital administrator. No home towns were listed.

Thirty-one American evacuees, mostly missionary families, already have been brought to Calcutta by the Indian air force. A convoy of five autos carrying 18 persons is now reported en route, the consulate said, and between 35 and 50 persons are in Gauhati, awaiting transportation south.

The consulate estimates that 150 Americans were in Assam, mostly south of the river. None reaching Calcutta reported seeing any fighting, but concern was expressed for some American technicians still unaccounted for.

MARSHAL ARRESTED—Chief Marshal James P. McShane (center) voluntarily surrendered himself to Lafayette county sheriff Joe Ford in Oxford, Mississippi after a warrant had been issued last week by the Lafayette County Grand Jury charging McShane with inciting riots at Mississippi University in early October. Talcott (right) of criminal division, Dept. of Justice obtained McShane's release on a writ of habeas corpus, pending determination of whether a Mississippi court can try a federal officer.

Area Civil Defense Program Gets Close Look at Meeting

A closer look at Civil Defense in Circleville and Pickaway County was conducted Wednesday night when local officials and interested persons met at the Memorial Hall.

Commenting on the ups and downs of Civil Defense and the current world situation was Charles W. Crow, director of Civil Defense in Ross County. Taking part in the session were county CD head Harry Timmons, Mayor Richard Penn, Councilman Boyd Horn, County Commissioner Charles Morris and representatives from the Local Red Cross Chapter, the Nurses Assn., and members of the local CD communications unit.

Crow told of the many frustrations faced by Civil Defense, dwelling especially on the surge of interest in protection when the "cold war grows hot" and then a virtual breakdown when the world situation becomes calmer. His example was the present Cuban crisis.

The speaker reminded that Civil Defense promoters must be salesmen who are willing to sell their program to the public which is not always willing to accept it.

A PRIMARY responsibility in obtaining a successful program, Crow said, lies with the initiative displayed by local, state and national government. "Without aid from these bodies, a sound program faces a rough road," he added.

The Ross County official said the fallout danger can be overcome with proper shelter plans. He recommended "do-it-yourself" shelter safes to go along with those authorized and licensed for community use within a locality.

Gaining considerable attention from the group was the 200-bed emergency hospital which already has been received and stored here. Most of the material is stored in the basement of Memorial Hall.

The leading question presented was how to obtain qualified personnel to set up the hospital in case of an emergency. Crow said the unit should come under direction of the local health and welfare departments, with the Civil Defense director assuming the responsibility of utilizing manpower to set it up.

The speaker also reminded that authority to set up the hospital must come from state-national level.

Definite courses for future Civil Defense action to be taken here were not established at the meeting, although Mayor Penn, Commissioner Morris and CD director Timmons agreed that more comprehensive study of local needs should be made.

2 Men Arrested In Cincy Holdup

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two men were arrested early today for the $500 robbery of the Clifton Heights Loan and Building Co. last Friday, the FBI announced.

E. D. Mason, special agent in charge of the Cincinnati FBI office, identified them as Daniel Maurice Henderson, 31, and Raymond Edward McWhorter, 33.

Henderson was arrested at 1:45 a.m. while visiting friends in suburban Loveland by two FBI agents and Police Chief John Fritz. Two agents and Cincinnati police picked up Henderson at 4:30 a.m. in nearby Okeana.

He was charged with armed robbery and possession of a dangerous weapon.

Argentine Plot Is Uncovered

Army Coup Is Nipped, Government Reports

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—The government says it has smashed a plot by an army faction of anti-Peronists to upset President Jose Maria Guido and prevent elections next June.

The government warned that supporters of the former dictator, Juan D. Peron, also planned to prevent the elections.

Security forces arrested eight alleged plotters Thursday and said further arrests were likely.

Those arrested were said to fear a comeback by Peronists under Guido's plan to hold elections June 16 and restore constitutional government.

Retired army Gen. Benjamin Mendez, 78, who led an unsuccessful plot against Peron in 1951, was named as the leader of the alleged anti-election plan.

He is reported to favor the ouster of Guido and installation of a military strongman.

Guido was installed last March after a military coup overthrew President Arturo Frondizi.

The government did not reveal how it had learned of the anti-election plot.

Interior Undersecretary Mariano Grondona said "two sectors are interested in that elections should not be held—the guerrillas (anti-Peronists) and Peron. They are both parasites of national hate among Argentines."

Peron, overthrown in 1955, is living in Madrid, Spain.

His supporters have been struggling to regain power.

The coup that installed Guido was precipitated by a Peronist resurgence in the March elections in which Peronists won 9 of 22 governorships and 47 of 192 seats in the House of Deputies.

Interior Minister Rodolfo Martinez said Thursday Peronists in the June elections if they campaign within the framework of the law.

Elections are to be held for president, vice president, both houses of Congress and provincial and municipal offices.

Those elected are to be installed Oct. 12 "if the situation so permits" at that time, Martinez said.

Walker Is OKd For U.S. Trial

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—A federal judge has ruled that Edwin A. Walker is mentally competent to stand trial on federal charges of seditious conspiracy and inciting an insurrection.

U.S. Dist. Judge Claude F. Clayton handed down the ruling Wednesday after a two-day hearing. He based his findings on a Dallas, Tex., mental test given the controversial former major general and his own observation of Walker's behavior in court.

But Clayton ruled first that the court order for a mental test was justified and should remain in the case record.

No trial date has been set for Walker. He was arrested and charged Oct. 1 for alleged actions during rioting at the University of Mississippi the night of Sept. 30, after Negro James H. Meredith arrived on the campus.

Traffic Fatalities Ahead of 1961

A rash of multiple deaths in traffic accidents marred the nation's observance of the Thanksgiving holiday, with fatalities appearing to run above last year's pace.

Deaths on the highway since the count started at 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday totaled 194 compared with 154 for the comparative period last year.

The Thanksgiving death toll on Ohio's highways looked encouraging as the long holiday weekend passed the halfway mark.

By early Friday morning, the Associated Press had recorded six deaths in traffic accidents an average of one fatality about every eight hours.

During a similar 54-hour period several weeks ago, traffic accidents claimed 22 people, or an average of one death about every 2½ hours.

There were numerous reports of accidents in which three, four and five persons were killed. In Texas, there were two separate accidents in which five persons were fatally injured in each mishap. A two-car crash in Illinois took the lives of four persons and four University of Omaha students were killed when their car smashed into a Union Pacific freight train at a crossing in the outskirts of Omaha.

The National Safety Council did not make an estimate of the traffic death toll for Thanksgiving or for the extended holiday period from 6 p.m. Wednesday until midnight Sunday. It said the traffic

Hitchhiker Is Held in Slaying Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 24-year-old hitchhiker was expected to be arraigned today on charges of first-degree murder and robbery in the killing of David Eugene Mason of Newark, the Franklin County sheriff's office reported.

The hitchhiker—Red-haired Frank Terris Clark of Cortland, N.Y.—was lodged in the Franklin County jail Thursday following his return from New York State. Officials say he has admitted killing 22-year-old Mason.

Mason's bullet-riddled body was found Nov. 13 along a farm-house lane at the west edge of Columbus. Officials theorized at the time that Mason, who was returning from Illinois, was slain by a hitchhiker he picked up. Mason's car turned up in Steubenville. His wallet, minus $100 it was believed to have contained, was found in a Columbus tavern.

A three-state search led officials to the meatpacking plant at Cortland where Clark was employed. He was arrested Wednesday, admitted the slaying and waived extradition, sheriff's deputies said.

Officials say Clark has given no clear reason for the slaying.

Air Reservists Due for Release

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—An estimated 2,000 Air Force reservists were to start preparing for release to civilian life today after less than a month of Cuban crisis duty at Clinton County Air Force Base.

Col. Donald Campbell, commanding officer of the 392nd Troop Carrier Wing, said demobilization of the reservists will be completed by Nov. 30.

The men, chiefly from Southwest Ohio, were called up Oct. 27 with about 12,000 other troop carrier specialists to be ready to ferry troops if needed.

Before the Cuban callup, the wing had a regular force of about 525 Air National Guard and civilian personnel.

U.S. Defense Budget Eyed

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy and a team of advisers probed into the Cuban crisis today at a conference over coffee cups.

Budget Director David Bell also arrived at the Kennedy home overlooking Nantucket Sound for a separate conference, to explore on a dime and dollars basis some of the items that will go into next year's federal spending program.

Three planes brought in members of the executive committee of the National Security Council for the review of the Cuban issue. There was some shifting in the lineup.

Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, did not make the meeting. He was reported to be in South Carolina. Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr., former ambassador to Moscow and now U.S. ambassador at large, was an addition. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy also sat in.

At the United Nations, competent sources reported that the United States and Soviet Union are considering a declaration designed to end the Cuban crisis. The Soviets proposed it.

This country reportedly was objecting to some provisions, mainly one that it agree to talk with Cuba about pulling out of the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo.

John J. McCloy, chairman of the U.S. Cuban coordinating committee, was among the conferees at Kennedy's summer home here on Cape Cod. Without explanation he said on his arrival that Stevenson would not be present.

The others in attendance: Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Undersecretary George Ball; Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Deputy Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric; Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; and McGeorge Bundy, presidential adviser on national security affairs.

Another presidential assistant, Theodore C. Sorensen, also sat in for a time.

The visitors landed at Otis Air Force Base, 20 miles west of here on Cape Cod, flew to Hyannis by helicopter, then motored to the Kennedy home at nearby Hyannis Port.

There was coffee for everybody in the living and dining room. Then the meeting began around the dining room table, with extra leaves added.

The session last about an hour and the President sat down then with McNamara, Gilpatrick, Bell and his deputy, Elmer Staats.

This indicated they were working on the Defense Department budget, which takes up half the total appropriations.

GI Insurance Dividends OKd By President

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy took time out from Thanksgiving Day festivities to order special GI insurance considerations.

Dividends of $222 million on National Service Life Insurance policies and $15.6 million on U.S. Government Life Insurance policies are going to be paid by the Veterans Administration in January instead of being spread out through 1963. And a special dividend of $90 million has been declared for holders of National Service policies.

The special dividend was described by a Veterans Administration spokesman in Washington as a bonus on National Service Life Insurance policies, retained upon discharge from the service by about a third of World War II veterans. U.S. Government Life Insurance policies are held primarily by World War I veterans.

Christmas shopping was to officially open today following the Santa Claus Parade at 2 p.m. and the initial lighting of the colored lights in the downtown area.

U.S. Diplomats Study Resolution on Cuba

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A joint U.S.-Soviet declaration proposed by the Soviets to put a conclusion to the Cuban crisis, is under discussion with the United States, well-informed sources reported today.

The United States delegates were reported balking at some points in the proposed document, particularly the point that the United States would agree to discuss with Cuba a withdrawal from Guantanamo naval base.

Col. Donald Campbell, commanding officer of the 392nd Troop Carrier Wing, said demobilization of the reservists will be completed by Nov. 30.

The men, chiefly from Southwest Ohio, were called up Oct. 27 with about 12,000 other troop carrier specialists to be ready to ferry troops if needed.

Blue Law Enforcement Is Demanded

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Sunday closing law is constitutional and every effort should be made to enforce it with prudence and good judgment, the Voters Action Association (VAA) said today.

John C. Mahaney Jr. of Columbus, executive secretary of the group which helped defeat the Lawson amendment in the Nov. 6 election, added that Ohioans should be "wary of those who would ask the General Assembly to clarify the law."

"Any change in the substantive provisions will . . . render the law subject to testing in the courts."

"There certainly will follow a period of at least two years, and possibly four of five years when merchants, who want to operate on Sunday for reasons of economic greed, and local officials who for one reason or another do not want to enforce any Sunday closing law, will have a ready made excuse," Mahaney said.

He said law enforcement agencies should strive for "reasonable" enforcement of existing laws and added they should not be interested in "with hunts."

Mahaney's statements were in a letter to Robert O. Stout, Marion County prosecutor who requested that the VAA outline methods for enforcing the Blue laws.

Several merchants were arrested in a crackdown throughout Marion county last Sunday. On Wednesday, in the first case to come up in Marion Municipal Court, Judge W. Dexter Hazen declared the law unconstitutional and dismissed charges against the defendant.

A PERIODIC ASK befell members of the Circleville Police Department today. . . . Over a length of time, a sizable quantity of confiscated alcoholic beverages builds up at the police station. . . . The liquor must be emptied and today was the day. . . .

Patrolmen Donald Adams, William Brungs and William Goff hauled the loot to the nearest wash basin and soon an aroma quite unfamiliar to City Hall filled the air. . . .

There were 11 different varieties—ranging from cheap grade wine to expensive bourbon. . . . Several early morning visitors at headquarters watched with amused interest. . . .

Though it may seem sad to some, the wash basin is the final destination for liquor contraband in Circleville.

ABOUT 140 YARDS of aluminum foil went into the shiny Christmas decoration garlands at Court and Main St. . . . Handling and preparing the tinsel was no easy job, but coming to the aid of the Christmas Decorating Committee were two local groups of girls. . . .

Pitching in to help unwind and prepare the foil were Circleville High School SOS members Cathy Griner, Cheryl Jenkins, Lochie McKenzie, Linda Benzenberg, Jane and Mary Mader, Kay McDonald and Nancy Brobst. . . .

Girl Scout Troop No. 796 members helping were Cynthia Thompson, Joyce Kanton, Susan Reichelderfer, Juanita Johnston, Lynne Reichelderfer and Mrs. George Lawson. . . .

CHRISTMAS shopping was to officially open today following the Santa Claus Parade at 2 p. m. and the initial lighting of the colored lights in the downtown area.

IDEAL WEATHER prevailed in the Pickaway County area yesterday for the Thanksgiving holiday. . . . Although the mercury climbed to a mere high of 40 in early afternoon, many hunters were seen in the outlying areas. . . . Others took advantage of the holiday by relaxing in front of the TV set and watching the football games.

U.S. Diplomats Study Resolution on Cuba

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A joint U.S.-Soviet declaration proposed by the Soviets to put a conclusion to the Cuban crisis, is under discussion with the United States, well-informed sources reported today.

The United States delegates were reported balking at some points in the proposed document, particularly the point that the United States would agree to discuss with Cuba a withdrawal from Guantanamo naval base.

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Harold I. June, 67, chief pilot for Admiral Richard E. Byrd on the first airplane flight over the South Pole in 1928, died Thursday.

U.S. Defense Budget Eyed

Soviet Declaration On Castro Pondered

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy and a team of advisers probed into the Cuban crisis today at a conference over coffee cups.

Budget Director David Bell also arrived at the Kennedy home overlooking Nantucket Sound for a separate conference, to explore on a dime and dollars basis some of the items that will go into next year's federal spending program.

Three planes brought in members of the executive committee of the National Security Council for the review of the Cuban issue. There was some shifting in the lineup.

Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, did not make the meeting. He was reported to be in South Carolina. Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr., former ambassador to Moscow and now U.S. ambassador at large, was an addition. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy also sat in.

At the United Nations, competent sources reported that the United States and Soviet Union are considering a declaration designed to end the Cuban crisis. The Soviets proposed it.

This country reportedly was objecting to some provisions, mainly one that it agree to talk with Cuba about pulling out of the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo.

John H. McCloy, chairman of the U.S. Cuban coordinating committee, was among the conferees at Kennedy's summer home here on Cape Cod. Without explanation he said on his arrival that Stevenson would not be present.

The others in attendance: Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Undersecretary George Ball; Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Deputy Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric; Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; and McGeorge Bundy, presidential adviser on national security affairs.

Another presidential assistant, Theodore C. Sorensen, also sat in for a time.

The visitors landed at Otis Air Force Base, 20 miles west of here on Cape Cod, flew to Hyannis by helicopter, then motored to the Kennedy home at nearby Hyannis Port.

There was coffee for everybody in the living and dining room. Then the meeting began around the dining room table, with extra leaves added.

The session last about an hour and the President sat down then with McNamara, Gilpatric, Bell and his deputy, Elmer Staats.

This indicated they were working on the Defense Department budget, which takes up half the total appropriations.

GI Insurance Dividends OK'd By President

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy took time out from Thanksgiving Day festivities to order special GI insurance considerations.

Dividends of $222 million on National Service Life Insurance policies and $15.6 million on U.S. Government Life Insurance policies are going to be paid by the Veterans Administration in January instead of being spread out through 1963. And a special dividend of $90 million has been declared for holders of National Service policies.

The special dividend was described by a Veterans Administration spokesman in Washington as a bonus on National Service Life Insurance policies, retained upon discharge from the service by about a third of World War II veterans. U.S. Government Life Insurance policies are held primarily by World War I veterans.

Adenauer Gives West Warning

It's No Time To Relax Against Khrush, Claim

BERLIN (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer says it would be stupid for the West to let down its guard now just because Soviet Premier Khrushchev backed down in Cuba.

Warning that there is "no real proof of a Soviet change of mind", Adenauer in a speech Thursday night also said West German troops "will stand in the front line to defend Berlin" if the Soviet Union attempts to use force to settle the dispute over this divided city.

His words were wildly cheered by some 10,000 of Adenauer's Christian Democrats packing Deutschland Hall, a big West Berlin indoor arena.

Adenauer's remarks on the use of West German troops for the defense of the isolated city seemed to be directed primarily to the West.

There has been fear that the West Germans would leave the Western Allies completely alone to deal with an attack on Berlin.

Adenauer, who came to Berlin for a meeting of his party's national committee, appeared to be in a less rosy frame of mind than some British and American leaders when he warned the West against letting down its guard.

Some of Britain's leaders are reported feeling that pressures on Khrushchev, following the Cuban crisis, may force him into acceptable solutions of some cold war issues, particularly nuclear tests.

Adenauer was optimistic enough, however, to predict a lull in the Berlin dispute for the time being.

If the Soviet moved against Berlin, he said, they could meet "the same firm and determined resistance as in Cuba." In Cuba, he said, "Khrushchev was smart enough to withdraw Soviet arms" when he faced a determined United States.

A-Energy Seen Cutting Costs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission sees lower cost electrical power for Americans before 1990—thanks to more and better nuclear fires.

By 1990, Americans could be saving over $2 billion a year on electricity, and by year 2000 the savings could total $30 billion, the AEC said Thursday in a report to President Kennedy.

The report that said the current AEC 10-year plan was on the threshold of its basic aim: To produce by 1968 competitive electrical power from nuclear reactors in those areas where fossil fuels—coal and oil—are relatively high priced because of transportation costs. By 1970, nuclear power will be economically competitive for most of the nation, the AEC said.

Blue Law Enforcement Is Demanded

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Sunday closing law is constitutional and every effort should be made to enforce it with prudence and good judgment, the Voters Action Association (VAA) said today.

John C. Mahaney Jr. of Columbus, executive secretary of the group which helped defeat the Lawson amendment in the Nov. 6 election, added that Ohioans should be "wary of those who would ask the General Assembly to clarify the law."

"Any change in the substantive provisions will . . . render the law subject to testing in the courts."

"There certainly will follow a period of at least two years, and possibly four or five years when merchants, who want to operate on Sunday for reasons of economic greed, and local officials who for one reason or another do not want to enforce any Sunday closing law, will have a ready made excuse," Mahaney said.

He said law enforcement agencies should strive for "reasonable" enforcement of existing laws and added they should not be interested in "with hunts."

Mahaney's statements were in a letter to Robert O. Stout, Marion County prosecutor who requested that the VAA outline methods for enforcing the Blue laws.

Several merchants were arrested in a crackdown throughout Marion county last Sunday. On Wednesday, in the first case to come up in Marion Municipal Court, Judge W. Dexter Hazen declared the law unconstitutional and dismissed charges against the defendant.

EDUCATORS HIT CENSORSHIP OF SCHOOL BOOKS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Continuing pressures of censorship against books in school libraries and classrooms are undermining education, according to the National Council of Teachers of English.

A policy statement adopted by the council's board of directors Thursday said "the greatest damage is done by book committees appointed by national or local organizations to pore over anthologies, texts or library books solely to find sentences that advocate causes or concepts or practices these organizations condemn."

"As a result, some publishers, sensitive to possible objection, are careful to exclude from textbooks selections or sentences that might conceivably offend various groups."

The council, holding its annual convention here, said "certain modern writers, praised by recognized critics and well established in the curriculum, are suddenly charged with seditious sentiments or licentious intent. In familiar classics, overt pornography is 'discovered.'"

"The attacks extend even to books about writers. Recently a collection of biographies of great philosophers was condemned for including the life of Plato, who in his own writings, it was charged, 'talked about free love and communal living and such.'"

British Check New Drugs As Cause of Birth Deformity

LONDON (AP) — Italy has banned the sale of preluin and other drugs suspected of causing deformities in unborn babies in the wake of a British investigation into birth-deforming pills.

The current issue of the British Medical Journal reported two women who had taken preluin gave birth to deformed babies. Doctors said it could have been coincidence.

A spokesman for the British College of General Practitioners said Thursday drugs besides thalidomide are suspected of causing baby deformities.

He said drug manufacturers were notified about the college's suspicions. He declined to identify the drugs, pending additional evidence.

Preludin, mentioned in the medical journal, is a German drug introduced nine years ago as a pep pill for slimming down pregnant women.

There was pressure in Canada for a freeze on preluin.

The American Medical Association reiterated advice to expectant mothers to take only essential, prescribed drugs during the first three months of pregnancy.

An estimated 50,000 American women have taken preluin since it was introduced in the United States in 1956. Dr. Frank Lyman, assistant to the director of Geigy Pharmaceuticals, said in New York.

Lyman said there was no evidence that preluin was responsible for any birth malformations. The drug, marketed by Geigy, is "taken orally to suppress the appetite," Lyman said.

The Italian Health Ministry imposed the ban Thursday and seized drugs containing phenylmethyl-tetra-hydro-ossazine.

Preludin was the only product mentioned by name.

Canadian Health Minister Waldo Monteith said reports about possible dangers from use of preluin were being investigated. He promised to make a report to House of Commons member James E. Walker, who suggested a temporary freeze on the drug.

Monteith declined to go along with the suggestion immediately.

The use of thalidomide is estimated to have resulted in the birth of 3,000 deformed babies in Germany, 390 in Britain and at least 10 in the United States.

EDUCATORS HIT CENSORSHIP OF SCHOOL BOOKS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Continuing pressures of censorship against books in school libraries and classrooms are undermining education, according to the National Council of Teachers of English.

A policy statement adopted by the council's board of directors Thursday, said "the greatest damage is done by book committees appointed by national or local organizations to pore over anthologies, texts or library books solely to find sentences that advocate causes or concepts or practices these organizations condemn."

"As a result, some publishers, sensitive to possible objection, are careful to exclude from textbooks selections or sentences that might conceivably offend various groups."

The council, holding its annual convention here, said "certain modern writers, praised by recognized critics and well established in the curriculum, are suddenly charged with seditious sentiments or licentious intent. In familiar classics, overt pornography is 'discovered.'"

"The attacks extend even to books about writers. Recently a collection of biographies of great philosophers was condemned for including the life of Plato, who in his own writings, it was charged, 'talked about free love and communal living and such.'"

British Check New Drugs As Cause of Birth Deformity

LONDON (AP) — Italy has banned the sale of preludein and other drugs suspected of causing deformities in unborn babies in the wake of a British investigation into birth-deforming pills.

The current issue of the British Medical Journal reported two women who had taken preludein gave birth to deformed babies. Doctors said it could have been coincidence.

A spokesman for the British College of General Practitioners said Thursday drugs besides thalidomide are suspected of causing baby deformities.

He said drug manufacturers were notified about the college's suspicions. He declined to identify the drugs, pending additional evidence.

Preludein, mentioned in the medical journal, is a German drug introduced nine years ago as a pep pill for slimming down pregnant women.

There was pressure in Canada for a freeze on preludein.

The American Medical Association reiterated advice to expectant mothers to take only essential, prescribed drugs during the first three months of pregnancy.

An estimated 50,000 American women have taken preludein since it was introduced in the United States in 1956, Dr. Frank Lyman, assistant to the director of Geigy Pharmaceuticals, said in New York.

Lyman said there was no evidence that preludein was responsible for any birth malformations. The drug, marketed by Geigy, is "taken orally to suppress the appetite," Lyman said.

The Italian Health Ministry imposed the ban Thursday and seized drugs containing phenylmethyl-tetra-hydro-oxazine.

Preludein was the only product mentioned by name.

Canadian Health Minister Waldo Monteith said reports about possible dangers from use of preludein were being investigated. He promised to make a report to House of Commons member James E. Walker, who suggested a temporary freeze on the drug.

Monteith declined to go along with the suggestion immediately.

The use of thalidomide is estimated to have resulted in the birth of 5,000 deformed babies in Germany, 390 in Britain and at least 10 in the United States.

Ohio Blue Law Clarification Looms in Offing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Unless the State Supreme Court can end most of the uncertainty over interpretation and enforcement of Ohio's so-called "blue laws," the 1963 legislature may be under considerable pressure to do so.

"Blue laws" generally are statutes governing Sunday behavior or personal conduct. The issue at the moment is Sunday sales.

Two weeks ago, Ohio voters rejected a proposed amendment to the state's constitution which would have prohibited any ban on Sunday sale of 23 items and services said to be necessities.

Many of those opposed to the proposed amendment said its rejection was tantamount to a demand for strict enforcement of existing Sunday closing laws.

As a result, many a local official is red-eyed from long hours of legal research and discussion. Several municipal councils, including the one in the state capital, have adopted resolutions calling on the legislature to clarify Ohio's blue law.

The principal state law involved dates back to 1831.

Work "of necessity or charity" presently is permitted on Sunday, or if the facility is closed on Saturday because the operator observes the sabbath then.

Although enforcement at the local level has been sporadic and the subject of some controversy, Ohio's courts consistently have upheld the ban on Sunday commerce and labor. But definitions of "work of necessity" have varied.

Pending in the State Supreme Court are two cases involving managers of milk stores in Euclid and Elyria. The possibility exists that a far-reaching decision, giving specific definition to the laws, might be written.

In the meantime, the changing pattern of American life which has given rise to the problem, varying opinions about what constitutes a Sunday need and pressure from various groups have complicated enforcement considerably.

Here are some of the situations of the past few days:

Mayor Karl Dune in Marion and the Marion County sheriff's office have been getting plenty of phone calls from citizens, some of whom couldn't even get a newspaper last Sunday. Apparently some goods and services that officials never meant the public to be without were cut off Sunday because operators weren't sure.

In Columbus, Mayor Ralston Westlake and city council called on the legislature to clear up "ambiguities" in the law. Police Chief George W. Scholer said new enforcement of Sunday closing laws will start Sunday, but only in "clear-cut cases."

Sunday stores operated normally this week in Toledo, although there were a few prosecutions before the Nov. 6 election and may be more.

Akron's law director, James Barbuto, is watching pending appeals of four Sunday closing convictions in municipal court. Like Mayor James V. Shipan of Maple Heights near Cleveland, and others, he contends enforcement must be uniform.

Springfield's city commission has voted 3-2 to order police to enforce Sunday closing. But it may be mid-December before enforcement begins because law directors Thomas J. Veskauf must determine what sales to prohibit and how to get evidence.

Youngstown's mayor, Harry N. Savasten, says talks with area business and civic groups are necessary before strict enforcement.

Dayton's city manager, Herbert Starick, says he has no idea how soon strict enforcement will start, but is meeting with law enforcement groups on the matter.

City Manager C. A. Harrell has ordered resumption of strict Sunday closing law enforcement in Cincinnati.

In Alliance, State Rep. James E. Thorpe said he will renew a request, rejected by the 1961 legislature, for legislative study of Sunday closing laws. Hamilton's city council asked the legislature more than a year ago for clarification.

Communities reporting no problems or research in progress or pending court decisions include Circleville, Steubenville, Portsmouth, Athens, Fremont, Ironton, Newark, London, Chillicothe, Canton and Massillon.

Sandusky officials think the legislature should "straighten this thing out" because existing laws are "unenforceable and ambiguous." Many Lima and Allen County clergymen say they are setting Jan. 6 as a tentative date to begin an all-out effort to keep "the traditional observance of the Lord's day."

Lorain has begun strict enforcement, and Findlay officials warn that blue laws will be enforced "to their fullest extent" starting Sunday. Lancaster's mayor plans to put the matter before city council Monday. Mansfield, like some other communities, has made arrests and officials are studying evidence gathered last Sunday.

Officials in Mount Vernon are conferring after a resolution by retail merchants calling for strict enforcement after Dec. 1. Wooster already has had a crackdown. Incidentally, the term "blue laws" comes from the color of their binding in colonial times.

Steelways Magazine estimates that the new interstate highway system will use 13.2 million tons of structural steel, much of it in bridge construction, and 13.6 million tons of reinforcing steel, used to improve the strength of concrete.

Ohio Kennedy Tells Cost of His Defeat

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Richard D. Kennedy of Cleveland has reported with tongue-in-cheek how he spent $435 getting plastered by the voters in his unsuccessful campaign to become Ohio Democratic congressman-at-large.

Kennedy, no relation to the President, was criticized by party members in Ohio for his stand on state's rights in disputes over integration.

Pointing up objections to his views by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and others, Kennedy listed among his expenses $20 for "travel to Columbus to be ignored by the governor."

Other listed expenditures were $85 for "travel to Washington to be shunned by the President of U.S.A.," $30 for "travel to Columbus to be repudiated by state Democrat convention," $35 for a trip to Cincinnati "to be rejected by Hamilton County Committee," and $1 for Cleveland "trips downtown to be discouraged by Cuyahoga County chairman."

Other expenses included $5 for "winning and dining newspaper reporters," and $4.04 for "bourbon for victory party." A separate entry in the expense statement said the bourbon was left over, but no plans for its disposition were listed.

Kennedy was defeated by Robert Taft Jr., Cincinnati Republican.

Ohio Draft Call In December Set For 60 Youths

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Selective Service headquarters today issued a December induction call for 600 men. Youngest registrant who may be inducted on this call must be at least 22 years of age on or before Dec. 1, unless he is a volunteer.

The call compares to 394 men in November, and 1,448 men in December 1961. The high call this year was in January with 1,309. The low call this year was in October for 303 men.

The call by counties: Clinton 1, Fayette 1, Greene 10, Highland 1.

Pickaway 2, Ross 1, Madison 2, Hocking 1, Perry 2, Fairfield 4, Athens 5, Vinton 1.

Van Wert 1, Putnam 2, Paulding 1, Allen 4, Mercer 1.

Mental Hygiene Chiefs See Expansion Need

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's mammoth mental hygiene and correction department has been characterized sometimes as an organization of brains and bricks.

Right now, department administrators feel there could be some reemphasis on the "bricks" aspect — maintenance and rehabilitation of the department's 1,453 buildings, new construction and planning for future facilities.

Robert K. Dean, acting director of the 16,000-employee department, hastily adds that this doesn't mean any letdown in efforts to find and keep the skilled people needed to run programs in mental health and juvenile and adult correction.

But Dean and his staff members say no major new construction has been started lately because practically all the money available for such purposes has been used up.

The $75 million in bond issue money authorized by voters in 1955 for this purpose has been exhausted, officials say, and the 1961 legislature pared the capital improvements budget in an effort to keep state spending within limits it felt were desirable.

"We're trying to prepare a realistic picture for the 1963 legislature," Dean says. "The department has many programs and facilities with many needs, and we have to try to balance these and decide which are greatest."

Dean agrees with James W. Vance, chief of the department's construction planning and maintenance section, that "our first major priority is to get rehabilitation and maintenance money."

Vance points out that some of the buildings on the 24,026 acres operated by the department date back more than a century.

Priority two in the 1963 - 65 biennium, Vance says, would be new construction, "and our third program area is planning money for future facilities."

Probably the most publicized of the department's broad building programs is that of the correction division, headed by Maury C. Koblenz.

Koblenz' division hopes the 1963 legislature will appropriate $12.5 million for a new medium security prison at Grafton in Lorain County. This, with the recently constructed one at Lebanon, would allow the Mansfield Reformatory to be used as a maximum security prison, relieving some of the over-population at Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus.

The correction division also would like to get money for plans and preparations for a future maximum security prison near London.

The Juvenile Research, Classification and Training Division, headed by John R. Ferguson, has 10 major construction projects in the broad program that it deems important in rehabilitating youthful offenders.

Largest is a 200-bed training school for boys at an as yet undetermined site in southern Ohio. The division also would like to build a 100-bed security institution for girls somewhere in northern Ohio, and 20-bed residential treatment centers with clinics in the Cincinnati and Cleveland areas.

Other proposed projects include completion of the second and third phases of a school wing at the Boys' Industrial School in Lancaster, as well as additional vocational classrooms, a new security and receiving cottage and a replacement housing cottage there; a replacement cottage at the Girls' Industrial School at Delaware, and an infirmary and disturbed ward building at the training institution, central Ohio, in Columbus.

The Mental Hygiene Division, responsible for about $262.6 million worth of the department's estimated $355.1 million worth of property, also is proposing a number of projects to meet its responsibilities with more than 33,000 patients. Dr. Henry Luidens is commissioner.

Among the division's proposals are:

A 1,500-bed state school for the mentally retarded, possibly completing initial facilities for 500 and support functions during the 1963-65 biennium, at an undetermined site in northeast Ohio.

The initial phase of a 1,500-bed state mental hospital in Cleveland's Warrensville Heights area.

Planning funds for 1,500-bed state hospitals in southwest and northeast Ohio, and 100-bed children's psychiatric hospitals in the Columbus and Cincinnati areas.

Money for preliminary planning of a 100-bed day care school for mental defectives in southwest Ohio and a 100-bed children's psychiatric hospital in the Toledo area.

A 500-bed medical-surgical facility at Columbus State Hospital, which also would serve nearby state institutions.

"We try to keep anyone from getting the impression we're going to build these things until we are authorized to do so," Dean says. "A lot of decisions must be made yet."

Ohio Blue Law Clarification Looms in Offing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Unless the State Supreme Court can end most of the uncertainty over interpretation and enforcement of Ohio's so-called "blue laws," the 1963 legislature may be under considerable pressure to do so.

"Blue laws" generally are statutes governing Sunday behavior or personal conduct. The issue at the moment is Sunday sales.

Two weeks ago, Ohio voters rejected a proposed amendment to the state's constitution which would have prohibited any ban on Sunday sale of 23 items and services said to be necessities.

Many of those opposed to the proposed amendment said its rejection was tantamount to a demand for strict enforcement of existing Sunday closing laws.

As a result, many a local official is red-eyed from long hours of legal research and a discussion. Several municipal councils, including the one in the state capital, have adopted resolutions calling on the legislature to clarify Ohio's blue law.

The principal state law involved dates back to 1831.

Work "of necessity or charity" presently is permitted on Sunday, or if the facility is closed on Saturday because the operator observes the sabbath then.

Although enforcement at the local level has been sporadic and the subject of some controversy, Ohio's courts consistently have upheld the ban on Sunday commerce and labor. But definitions of "work of necessity" have varied.

Pending in the State Supreme Court are two cases involving managers of milk stores in Euclid and Elyria. The possibility exists that a far-reaching decision, giving specific definition to the laws, might be written.

In the meantime, the changing pattern of American life which has given rise to the problem, varying opinions about what constitutes a Sunday need and pressure from various groups have complicated enforcement considerably.

Here are some of the situations of the past few days:

Mayor Karl Dune in Marion and the Marion County sheriff's office have been getting plenty of phone calls from citizens, some of whom couldn't even get a newspaper last Sunday. Apparently some goods and services that officials never meant the public to be without were cut off Sunday because operators weren't sure.

In Columbus, Mayor Ralston Westlake and city council called on the legislature to clear up "ambiguities" in the law. Police Chief George W. Scholer said new enforcement of Sunday closing laws will start Sunday, but only in "clear-cut cases."

Sunday stores operated normally this week in Toledo, although there were a few prosecutions before the Nov. 6 election and may be more.

Akron's law director, James Barbuto, is watching pending appeals of four Sunday closing convictions in municipal court. Like Mayor James V. Shipan of Maple Heights near Cleveland, and others, he contends enforcement must be uniform.

Springfield's city commission has voted 3-2 to order police to enforce Sunday closing. But it may be mid-December before en-

Ohio Kennedy Tells Cost of His Defeat

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Richard D. Kennedy of Cleveland has reported with tongue-in-cheek how he spent $435 getting plastered by the voters in his unsuccessful campaign to become Ohio Democratic congressman-at-large.

Kennedy, no relation to the President, was criticized by party members in Ohio for his stand on state's rights in disputes over integration.

Pointing out objections to his views by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and others, Kennedy listed among his expenses $20 for "travel to Columbus to be ignored by the governor."

Other listed expenditures were $85 for "travel to Washington to be shunned by the President of U.S.A.," $30 for "travel to Columbus to be repudiated by state Democrat convention," $35 for a trip to Cincinnati "to be rejected by Hamilton County Committee," and $1 for Cleveland "trips downtown to be discouraged by Cuyahoga County chairman."

Other expenses included $5 for "winning and dining newspaper reporters," and $4.04 for "bourbon for victory party." A separate entry in the expense statement said the bourbon was left over, but no plans for its disposition were listed.

Kennedy was defeated by Robert Taft Jr., Cincinnati Republican.

Ohio Draft Call In December Set For 600 Youths

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Selective Service headquarters today issued a December induction call for 600 men. Youngest registrant who may be inducted on this call must be at least 22 years of age on or before Dec. 1, unless he is a volunteer.

The call compares to 394 men in November, and 1,448 men in December 1961. The high call this year was in January with 1,309. The low call this year was in

Mental Hygiene Chiefs See Expansion Need

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's mammoth mental hygiene and correction department has been characterized sometimes as an organization of brains and bricks.

Right now, department administrators feel there could be some reemphasis on the "bricks" aspect — maintenance and rehabilitation of the department's 1,453 buildings, new construction and planning for future facilities.

Robert K. Dean, acting director of the 16,000-employee department, hastily adds that this doesn't mean any letdown in efforts to find and keep the skilled people needed to run programs in mental health and juvenile and adult correction.

But Dean and his staff members say no major new construction has been started lately because practically all the money available for such purposes has been used up.

The $75 million in bond issue money authorized by voters in 1955 for this purpose has been exhausted, officials say, and the 1961 legislature pared the capital improvements budget in an effort to keep state spending within limits it felt were desirable.

"We're trying to prepare a realistic picture for the 1963 legislature," Dean says. "The department has many programs and facilities with many needs, and we have to try to balance these and decide which are greatest."

Dean agrees with James W. Vance, chief of the department's construction planning and maintenance section, that "our first major priority is to get rehabilitation and maintenance money."

Vance points out that some of the buildings on the 24,026 acres operated by the department date back more than a century.

Priority two in the 1963 - 65 biennium, Vance says, would be new construction, "and our third program area is planning money for future facilities."

Probably the most publicized of the department's broad building programs is that of the correction division, headed by Maury C. Koblenz.

Koblenz' division hopes the 1963 legislature will appropriate $12.5 million for a new medium security prison at Grafton in Lorain County. This, with the recently constructed one at Lebanon, would allow the Mansfield Reformatory to be used as a maximum security prison, relieving some of the overpopulation at Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus.

The correction division also would like to get money for plans and preparations for a future maximum security prison near London.

The Juvenile Research, Classification and Training Division, headed by John R. Ferguson, has 10 major construction projects in the broad program that it deems important in rehabilitating youthful offenders.

Largest is a 200-bed training school for boys at an as yet undetermined site in southern Ohio. The division also would like to build a 100-bed security institution for girls somewhere in northern Ohio, and 20-bed residential treatment centers with clinics in the Cincinnati and Cleveland areas.

Other proposed projects include completion of the second and third phases of a school wing at the Boys' Industrial School in Lancaster, as well as additional vocational classrooms, a new security and receiving cottage and a replacement housing cottage there; a replacement cottage at the Girls' Industrial School at Delaware, and an infirmary and disturbed ward building at the training institution, central Ohio, in Columbus.

The Mental Hygiene Division, responsible for about $262.6 million worth of the department's estimated $355.1 million worth of property, also is proposing a number of projects to meet its responsibilities with more than 33,000 patients. Dr. Henry Luidens is commissioner.

Among the division's proposals are:

A 1,500-bed state school for the mentally retarded, possibly completing initial facilities for 500 and support functions during the 1963-65 biennium, at an undetermined site in northeast Ohio.

The initial phase of a 1,500-bed state mental hospital in Cleveland's Warrensville Heights area. Planning funds for 1,500-bed state hospitals in southwest and northeast Ohio, and 100-bed children's psychiatric hospitals in the Columbus and Cincinnati areas.

Money for preliminary planning of a 100-bed day care school for mental defectives in southwest Ohio and a 100-bed children's psychiatric hospital in the Toledo area.

A 500-bed medical-surgical facility at Columbus State Hospital, which also would serve nearby state institutions.

"We try to keep anyone from getting the impression we're going to build these things until we are authorized to do so," Dean says. "A lot of decisions must be made yet."

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN M. D.

Your home seemed solid when you went to sleep but now it's swaying and swirling!

What should you do?

Stay in bed and call your doctor. If his examination and tests rule out serious trouble you probably have labyrinthitis — a mild infection in your inner ear.

The inner ear — or labyrinth — is a complex arrangement of bony tubing. It nestles snugly in the hollowed-out mastoid bone.

One part changes sound vibrations into nerve signals. Trouble here would dull hearing and start hissing or ringing ear noise. The rest of the inner ear helps you keep your balance. That's why even a mild infection can transport you into a whirling world.

Infections allergies and blood vessel spasm force extra fluid into that bony tubing. With your delicate balance mechanism bloated, solid land feels like a rowboat spinning over 10-foot waves. Doctors call this "vertigo."

You stagger, lurch and fall like a drunken sailor without sea legs. Your stomach churns and you turn seasick-green. Your eyes may flit back and forth while your horizon bounces up and down.

You'll feel better lying flat on your back. Close your eyes if the swirling world makes you queasy.

Ordinary seasick remedies often help.

To shrink your bloated inner ear, your doctor can prescribe pills that speed salt and water out through your kidneys. Help yourself by cutting out all extra salt. Avoid salty ham, fish, chips and the like.

Labyrinthitis is usually a virus infection that burns itself out in two or three weeks. Miracle drugs seldom help.

Don't confuse labyrinthitis with Meniere's disease. Meniere's disease affects both hearing and balance and brings on ear noise. You suffer repeated attacks.

When labyrinthitis fades, you're back on solid ground for keeps!

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

Pearl in Oyster Is Very Rare

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

You have two chances in a million of finding a pearl in an oyster.

A survey found that the average U.S. male girl-watcher spends four times as long looking at a girl's figure as he does her face.

An upstate drive-in gives away free dog food on Friday nights.

The bingo craze has spread to service stations in Britain. Motorists are given a numbered card when they stop for gas. The first customer to get a card matching one on display in the station window wins a prize.

Christopher Columbus first brought rice to the New World on his second voyage. Incidentally, a signature by Columbus is worth up to $50,000—but one by Napoleon brings only about $50 on the autograph market.

The best way to tackle cranberry stains on your tablecloth is to immediately rub the spot with an ice cube.

Courtship is simple among the Panama Indians. If a girl offers you her loin cloth, that's a sign she likes you. If you accept it, you're married.

Our troops stationed in the arctic suffer nearly three times as many injuries as troops elsewhere, mainly from falling on ice.

One of the world's major copper deposits is under the street of New York City. It consists of more than 300 million pounds of copper cables.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson once worked as a bootblack. David Sarnoff, head of RCA, began as a telegrapher.

Juvenile delinquency isn't just a big city problem. The number of court cases involving children has doubled as rural areas since 1955.

Eating an apple a day really does help keep the doctor away. An experiment at Michigan State University showed that students who ate apples daily suffered on third fewer colds than other members of the student body.

An Epic Episode

The fracas over Alger Hiss' broadcast against Richard Nixon has three aspects: the legal, the moral and the esthetic.

From a strictly legal standpoint, the American Broadcasting Company can defend itself on several grounds, some correct, some specious. A broadcasting network may put on its program whomever it chooses, provided that he does not break certain specified ground rules; namely that the commentator or orator, whichever it might be, does not commit libel or utter salacious terminology, such as four letter words which small boys write with chalk.

There is no law against Alger Hiss talking as much as he likes if he can get a platform and there is no law against providing him with a platform.

But that is only one side of the coin. On the moral side, Alger Hiss was convicted for perjury in a case involving at least subversion in an official position and at most, treason. The offense was never clearly defined, just as Al Capone was not convicted for murder or any crime other than failing to pay his income tax.

What Hiss did on that program was to be vengeful, which is a sin if ever there was one. If Alger Hiss dislikes anyone, it should be Richard Nixon, then a young Congressman, uncovered. There was not one word of shame or regret in this author of the United Nations Charter for his complicity in Whittaker Chambers' espionage activities — not one word of apology. There was only hatred for the man who exposed him and in whose defeat he revelled.

James Hagerty, Vice President of the American Broadcasting Company, permitted Hiss to do this little play-acting. Hagerty is the boss.

Prior to his getting the job with the American Broadcasting Company, he was President Eisenhower's press secretary and, next to Sherman Adams, the most powerful man in the Eisenhower Administration.

Now comes Emmet John Hughes, a speech-writer for Eisenhower — and also for Governor Nelson Rockefeller. Hughes in a "kiss and tell" article in "Look" Magazine, provides the clue to Hiss' privilege of damning Nixon on the American Broadcasting Company program. He indicates not only that Eisenhower's staff disliked Nixon, but that "Eisenhower did not regard the succession of Nixon as a blessing either inevitable or irresistible."

Then Hughes goes on to describe the 1960 campaign:

"This climactic electoral battle of the Eisenhower Years found candidate Nixon and Eisenhower's White House still at odds, unadmitted distance from one another. As Nixon suffered the anguish of irresolution on so many basic issues (was a clean-cut stand on civil rights really worth the loss of that shimmering vision of all those Southern electoral votes?), the same fateful ambiguity afflicted his very relationship with Eisenhower. On the one hand, Nixon knew the vast potential power that the President might wield in his election. On the other hand, he knew, too — along with the quickening criticism of Eisenhower's foreign policy — the rather widespread complaint of the electorate that he, Nixon, had never stood, alone and free, beyond the comforting shade of the taller figure of the President. A vigorous show of self-sufficiency, then, seemed the order of the day — along with a reserve of political aid, of course, to be summoned in emergency."

"In this climate, both personal and political relations between the Eisenhower staff and the Nixon staff grew chill as the political battle grew warm. Men around the President, anxious to lend assistance to guard Eisenhower's personal stake in the electoral verdict upon the past eight years, met repeated rebuffs from men around the Vice-President, anxious to be rid of the burden of past mistakes and to shape their own vision of the next four years."

From this picture, which could well have been written before the broadcast, it is clear that a man like Hagerty, in the Eisenhower entourage, would dislike Nixon and hope that no good befell him. When Nixon was defeated by John F. Kennedy for the Presidency, it was by such a small vote that the Eisenhowerites were silent, but when Nixon was defeated this year in California, Hagerty apparently permitted Alger Hiss to hammer the last nail into Nixon's political coffin. His apology last Sunday night was not convincing.

Esthetically, it was ugly. One does not use a Hiss for anything in the United States.

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN M. D.

Your home seemed solid when you went to sleep but now it's swaying and swirling! What should you do? Stay in bed and call your doctor. If his examination and tests rule out serious trouble you probably have labyrinthitis — a mild infection in your inner ear. The inner ear — or labyrinth — is a complex arrangement of bony tubing. It nestles snugly in the hollowed-out mastoid bone. One part changes sound vibrations into nerve signals. Trouble here would dull hearing and start hissing or ringing ear noise. The rest of the inner ear helps you keep your balance. That's why even a mild infection can transport you into a whirling world. Infections allergies and blood vessel spasm force extra fluid into that bony tubing. With your delicate balance mechanism bloated, solid land feels like a rowboat spinning over 10-foot waves. Doctors calls this "vertigo." You stagger, lurch and fall like a drunken sailor without sea legs. Your stomach churns and you turn seasick green. Your eyes may flit back and forth while your horizon bounces up and down. You'll feel better lying flat on your back. Close your eyes if the swirling world makes you queasy. Ordinary seasick remedies often help. To shrink your bloated inner ear, your doctor can prescribe pills that speed salt and water out through your kidneys. Help yourself by cutting out all extra salt. Avoid salty ham, fish, chips and the like. Labyrinthitis is usually a virus infection that burns itself out in two or three weeks. Miracle drugs seldom help. Don't confuse labyrinthitis with Meniere's disease. Meniere's disease affects both hearing and balance and brings on ear noise. You

Dear Abby:

by Abigail Van Buren

It Ain't Worth It!

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of an arrangement like this? I am in my seventies and I have a lady friend who is in her fifties. She agreed to marry me if I signed over my insurance policies to her. But she will live with her married daughter and I will live with my married son. What do you think?

UNSETTLED

DEAR UNSETTLED: I think your "lady friend" is fishing for security with some pretty old bait. I don't advise teen-agers to "go steady," but in your case I recommend it.

DEAR ABBY: I am an 11-year-old girl. My mother is very good to me and I love her very much. But there's one problem. She likes to sleep late on Saturday mornings. Whenever one of my friends calls me on the phone before 9:00 A.M. my mother has a fit. She yells at me and tells me to tell my friends not to call so early. Recently my best friend called at 8:30 and woke my mother up. She really got mad and told me if that girl ever called that early again I could have nothing to do with her. I never told my friend that because I don't want rumors going around that my mother is mean. But I am afraid my friend will call early again. Then what will I do?

NEEDS HELP

DEAR NEEDS: Tell your friend not to call you—that you will call her. But be sure HER mother doesn't like to sleep late on Saturday mornings or you'll both be cooked.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow (40) and I go with a very respectable man (44). We are in love and have been for three years. His wife has been in an institution for nearly ten years. She is incurable. He can get a divorce but he isn't sure it would be right. There are no children involved as his re-married (they approve of me) and I have none. Neither of us is pushing, for we both understand the situation. What should we do?

PATIENCE

DEAR PATIENCE: I happen to believe that marriage is forever.

He took his wife in sickness and in health. This is sickness, and "curble" tomorrow. This is decision YOU will have to make yourselves.

CONFIDENTIAL TO Clem Skibinski, Tom Greiner and J.C. Seeshimer: The message you wrote to me, placed in a bottle and thrown over the side of the "J. H. BROWN" into Lake Huron, reached me on October 24th. What a thrill! When did you throw it?

ABBY

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Top Designers Use Corduroy

By SUSAN BARDEN

Many of our top designers have given city ways to an old standby — corduroy — creating coats, suits and ensembles which are at home against either town or country background.

Sometimes this effect is achieved by combining wide wale with silk or wool. At others, an unusual combination of colors gives an effect of great sophistication.

Often coats of darker shade are teamed with lighter shade dresses. Suits use contrasting fabric blouses in interesting prints or in solid hues.

Corduroy is also seen in evening costumes. Several houses have fashioned the fabric into theater suits resplendent with gold lame or made it into long formal wraps lined in nutria.

Equally attuned to city life are opulent coats, some with dresses matching the lining and some fur-trimmed.

Nice for brunch: cheese sauce served over ham. Heat and lightly brown slices of cooked ham and arrange on buttered toast; pour over the cheese sauce.

Want delightful tasting pastry for fruit pies? Substitute orange juice for water in a regular pastry recipe and add about half a teaspoon of grated orange rind.

Your Beauty Guide

by Phyllis Atwood

A beautician uses her skilled knowledge and training to note the quality and condition of your hair to develop your hair style. If your hair has a mind of its own and refuses to settle down and give you the style you may want, it is most likely too wiry.

This indicates need for a good haircut and shaping which will help to bring your hair under control.

Your hair may refuse to hold a curl, even with a permanent. This means poor elasticity. A solution for this indicates a simple hair style... along the order of a cap cut for example. Whatever your problem may be, a trained beautician will offer or advise a treatment best for you.

Ex-Dayton City Aide Fined $1000

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Former Dayton City Commissioner David Pottinger, who disappeared with the family babysitter for seven weeks, was fined $1,000 and put on five years' probation in juvenile court here.

The sentence came after Pottinger pleaded nolo contendere (I do not wish to contend) to charges of tending to cause the delinquency of a minor. The only testimony was a deposition taken from the babysitter, Sherryl Vanderweil, 17, who said she was with Pottinger during his disappearance from Aug. 1 to Sept. 17.

Judge Nicholas also ordered that Pottinger continue the psychiatric treatments he has undergone since being found at Knoxville, Tenn., and that he "refrain from an effort to contact," the Vanderweil girl. Asked by the court if he had anything to say, Pottinger replied: "I can only say that I am sorrier than words can express for difficulties I have caused my family and that of the Vanderweils."

Pottinger is married and the father of two small children.

Redemption: Man's Response

HOW THE SALVATION WHICH GOD OFFERS US THROUGH CHRIST IS RECEIVED, AND SOME OF THE RESULTS WHICH FOLLOW

Scripture—Acts 9:10-25; 13:1-3; 16:25-34; Romans 5:1-11;
10:1-13; 1 John 1:5-10; II Corinthians 11:24-28.

By N. SPEER JONES

LAST WEEK we discussed
God's gracious gift of salvation to man, His restoration of the perfect bond between Himself and man despite his sins. This week we study the other side of the coin—man's role in this wonderful redemption.

As in last week's lesson, much of our material is taken from the experiences of Paul, perhaps the Bible's most notable example of redemption—the arch-persecutor who became the most powerful Christian of the first century.

Our story picks up where last week's left off; Paul (Saul) still blinded from his vision of Christ,
is fasting and praying in Dan-
ascus, God, as if to show us
once more how important are those of us who seem to be obscure, chooses an unknown disciple.

blinded from his vision of Christ,
is fasting and praying in Dan-
ascus, God, as if to show us
once more how important are those of us who seem to be obscure, chooses an unknown disciple.

A striking example of a man's response to God's call was Ananias —an action he continued despite all the persecutions listed in II Corinthians 11:24-28. From persecutor, Paul had become the persecuted; the Jews counted him one of their worst enemies, and to King Agrippa. This Agrippa is the seventh and last king of the family of Herod the Great; a Jew in religion, he was a Roman in politics. Paul preached before him and his sister, Bernice, at Caesarea (Acts 26) sometime before his death in 100 A.D.

"By grace you have been saved through faith; and this is not your own doing, it is the gift of God."—Ephesians 2:8.

ple named Ananias to cure Paul of his blindness. How often have our own eyes been opened to some truth of mind or feeling by just such a seemingly important encounter with a stranger? This obscure layman was also chosen to baptize Paul.

Some interpreters of the Bible have held that Paul's sight was permanently affected by his vision; they cite his constant use of a secretary thereafter, and his reference in Galatians 6:11 to the large letters in which he writes.

When God told Ananias about his mission, He told him that Paul had been chosen to bear
His name "before the Gentiles and kings," his special province, besides the Jews. It is thought that he preached before the emperor Nero himself, as well as to various Roman governors.

for he had forsaken not only his former faith, but the trust of the high priest.
Acts 13:1-3 and Romans 10:
4-13 both deal with the way in which a missionary should be sent out—he must first respond to God's call. A church does well to wait until God calls His own to His tasks.

Acts 16:25-34 describes another instance of an obscure man's response to God's gift of salvation. When the jailer is made aware of God's power, he gives himself immediately and totally to God's work.

The passages from Romans and John emphasize once more the fact that salvation is made possible only by the death of Christ, that it is received by believing in Christ and by confessing our sins and seeking forgiveness therefrom.

Redemption: Man's Response

HOW THE SALVATION WHICH GOD OFFERS US THROUGH CHRIST IS RECEIVED, AND SOME OF THE RESULTS WHICH FOLLOW

Scripture—Acts 9:10-25; 13:1-3; 16:25-34; Romans 6:1-11; 10:4-13; I John 1:5-10; II Corinthians 11:24-28.

By N. SPEER JONES

LAST WEEK we discussed God's gracious gift of salvation to man. His restoration of the perfect bond between Himself and man despite his sins. This week we study the other side of the coin—man's role in this wonderful redemption.

As in last week's lesson, much of our material is taken from the experiences of Paul, perhaps the Bible's most notable example of redemption—the arch-persecutor who became the most powerful Christian of the first century.

Our story picks up where last week's left off; Paul (Saul) still blinded from his vision of Christ, is fasting and praying in Damascus. God, as if to show us once more how important are those of us who seem to be obscure, chooses an unknown disciple named Ananias to cure Paul of his blindness. How often have our own eyes been opened to some truth of mind or feeling by just such a seemingly unimportant encounter with a stranger? This obscure layman was also chosen to baptize Paul.

Some interpreters of the Bible have held that Paul's sight was permanently affected by his vision; they cite his constant use of a secretary thereafter, and his reference in Galatians 6:11 to the large letters in which he writes.

When God told Ananias about his mission, He told him that Paul had been chosen to bear His name "before the Gentiles and kings," his special province, besides the Jews. It is thought that he preached before the emperor Nero himself, as well as to various Roman governors.

ple named Ananias to cure Paul of his blindness. How often have our own eyes been opened to some truth of mind or feeling by just such a seemingly unimportant encounter with a stranger? This obscure layman was also chosen to baptize Paul.

Some interpreters of the Bible have held that Paul's sight was permanently affected by his vision; they cite his constant use of a secretary thereafter, and his reference in Galatians 6:11 to the large letters in which he writes.

When God told Ananias about his mission, He told him that Paul had been chosen to bear His name "before the Gentiles and kings," his special province, besides the Jews. It is thought that he preached before the emperor Nero himself, as well as to various Roman governors.

for he had forsaken not only his former faith, but the trust of the high priest.

Acts 13:1-3 and Romans 10:4-13 both deal with the way in which a missionary should be sent out—he must first respond to God's call. A church does well to wait until God calls His own to His tasks.

Acts 16:25-34 describes another instance of an obscure man's response to God's gift of salvation. When the jailer is made aware of God's power, he gives himself immediately and totally to God's work.

The passages from Romans and John emphasize once more the fact that salvation is made possible only by the death of Christ, that it is received by believing in Christ and by confessing our sins and seeking forgiveness therefrom.

Whole Church Having Its Say In Roman Catholic Council

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The whole Church has the floor and is having its say.

That is the basic fact of the Vatican Ecumenical Council today. Many voices and many minds, shaped under diverse backgrounds and propounding varying views, are forging the new contours of the Church.

Ordinarily, for Roman Catholicism, it is Rome alone—the Pope and the Vatican Curia — that spreads the final and authoritative word. As St. Augustine once put it: "Rome has spoken. The case is concluded."

While this remains the case, in a jurisdictional sense, the voice of Rome has become a vast chorus.

It encompasses the accents and insights of many places and peoples, the urgencies of Asia and Africa, the ideas of the Orient, the ways of Americans, the experiments of European churchcraft.

Although the fundamentals of doctrine unite these men, they have come laden with creative plans and fresh approaches to renew their church.

They are pushing them—in full, forceful, unrestrained fashion.

As Bishop Thomas William Muldoon, of Sydney, Australia, put it: "If anyone thought for a moment that the bishops of the world were brought here to rubber-stamp a set of pre-determined proposals, he could not have been further from the truth."

"Each one has a chance to speak his mind . . . and I can assure you that the bishops are taking full advantage of their rights."

"Many of us have changed our minds about a lot of things since coming here," an American bishop said. "Some bishops that were out-and-out conservatives have seen the need for changes."

Although essential doctrine is regarded immutably true, there are many proposals in the works for fuller interpretations, clarifications, and modifications in practices.

This does not mean that Catholicism is going to give up its centuries of traditions, which are treasured as the legacy of Christ's guidance over the years.

But it may mean that the hard lines of opposition between Catholicism and Protestantism, set at the Council of Trent in the 16th century, may be softened.

Ashville News Report

By Mrs. Arthur Deal Jr.
Phone YU 3-6111

The November meeting of the Ashville PTA opened with prayer by the Rev. A. L. Drewes, pastor of the First English Lutheran Church.

The treasury showed a profit of $192.52 derived from the Fall Carnival in October. Mrs. Robert Baum reported that the treasurer's records for 1961-62 were audited and found to be in order.

Robert Baum, president, appointed the December hospitality committee. Members are Mrs. James Hafey, Mrs. James McCord, Mrs. George Curry, Mrs. Clarence Ison and Mrs. Herman Petty.

Named to a committee to work with teachers in appointing room mothers to each class were Mrs. Orlan Hines, Mrs. Eugene Wilson and Mrs. Herb Seymour.

A prize will be awarded to the class at the end of the school year that has won the attendance banner the most times. The banner will be awarded each month to the class having the most parents in attendance.

The president is seeking a lost bond that had been purchased by the Ashville PTA in July 1944, worth $100.00. The maturity date was 1956 and the interest has ceased. He said it is necessary the bond be secured.

Mrs. Felix Dore, 7th grade teacher, suggested that the PTA aid local students who may be in need of help in reading. She said they could be sponsored at a reading clinic in Columbus.

Appointed to make a report on the clinic at the December meeting were Mrs. Warren Bastian, Mrs. Hewitt Cromley and Mrs. Hubert Puckett.

The membership committee reported the local PTA now has a membership of 114.

E. R. Gregg, executive head, announced an "open house" will be observed at the new Teays Valley High School on Dec. 2.

Following the meeting the 7th grade class of Charles Trone presented a Thanksgiving play entitled "Pumpkin Pie Eater". Participating in the play were Sarah Cromley, Betty Baum, Becky Stout, Richard Petty, Mark Cook, Debbie Nungester, Mike Kitchen, Marjorie Custer, Gary Rife, Jim Deal and Richard Barr.

Assisting in the production were Sue Puckett, Claudia Lough, Darrell Felty, Sue Wilson, Sandra Tosca and John Hoffhines.

Ashville Brownie Troop No. 238 and their leaders, Mrs. Chet Peters and Mrs. Arch Stewart, met at the Ashville Methodist Church on Nov. 19. Nineteen members and one visitor were present. Lucy Vause and Joyce Miller from the Senior Girl Scout Troop demonstrated how to present, display and fold the American flag.

William Plum Jr., Route 1, Ashville, entered Riverside Methodist Hospital Monday. He was to undergo knee surgery on Wednesday.

Van Wert Gets Big Thank-You

CINCINNATI (AP)—A University of Cincinnati virus researcher has a message of thanks for the people of Van Wert County for lending a helping hand to some basic studies.

Dr. H. Curt Bubel, a microbiologist, says the Van Wert residents and their United Health Foundation presented a gift that helped solve the problem of obtaining laboratory viruses.

He said he and an aide, David Wolff, had drawn up plans for an instrument to grow billions of human cells and viruses daily. The $1,400 gift enable them to build it.

He said this finally assured a supply of research material for his work on chemical and biological properties of viruses, especially in their relation to cancer.

The recently completed machine is a stainless steel tank 4 feet long and 2 feet deep in which water is kept at body temperature. Three glass containers, containing food for the cultures, are suspended in the tank and cells and viruses added. After three days of constant stirring the new crop is ready for laboratory work. A single cell in the device can produce similar cells in the billions.

Surplus cells and viruses are the device.

Dr. Bubel said, "This has allowed us to make the initial studies on the suspended cell system."

"Our entire laboratory operation has been scaled up to make use of the continuous flow of cells and viruses, and everyone in our laboratory is benefiting — even the medical students, who now have plenty of cell material to study."

He said the device is the only one like it anywhere, although the idea for its design was not original.

Cuban Refugees Scatter Across U.S.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Cuban refugees, concentrated in Miami during the early stages of their flight from Fidel Castro's dictatorship, are scattered throughout the nation.

When Fernando Hernandez, 25, left this month with his wife and 9-month old daughter to start life anew in Los Angeles, he became the 50,000th refugee resettled from Miami to other cities.

The 50,000 are in every state except Alaska, and in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. More than twice that number remain in the Miami area.

More than 2,000 babies have been born in the United States of Cuban refugee parents. They are native American citizens. Thousands of other babies have been brought from Cuba by plane and boat.

"The Cuban refugee situation has wider impact than any other such movement in the last decade," said resettlement director J. Arthur Lazell, who also worked with the Hungarian refugees in 1956-58.

When the day comes the Cubans can return—and refugees generally believe it will not be long—how many will go home?

Lazell believes 10 to 15 per cent will remain in the United States. That means well over 12,000 in Miami and between 5,000 and 7,500 elsewhere. Other estimates are higher.

Since most exiles have refugee rather than immigrant status, congressional action may be required to facilitate their continued U.S. residence. Such action was taken for Hungarians in 1958, and 38,000 still are in America.

Uncle Sam has spent some $60 million in relief for the Cubans. More than $2 million monthly goes to the Miami area.

Federal relief payments amount to a $100 maximum per family, with the average $90, and a $60 maximum per individual, averaging $54. There are additional state food grants.

To help Cubans resettle outside refugee-congested Miami, where most cannot find jobs, the government pays plane fare and $100 per family to get started.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Most of Ohio was clear and cold this morning. Some cloudiness in the northeast prevented temperatures from dropping as drastically as those over most of the state.

Columbus and Cincinnati were down to 20 degrees at 6 a.m. today, while Toledo reported 23 and Cleveland 33.

The high pressure system which brought the sharp drop in temperatures will move eastward today. Low pressure to the west will bring a chance of a few scattered showers to the state this evening or tonight.

Winds today will be considerably lighter than those of Thursday and cloudiness will increase by afternoon.

Temperatures this afternoon will reach the 40s.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO—Temperatures will average two to three degrees above normal. Normal high 44-53, normal low 28-33. Warmer tonight, little change thereafter. Rainfall will total less than one-half inch. Chance of light showers central tonight, again about first of week.

Children with neglected hearing problems repeat grades four times as often as children with normal hearing, according to the Hearing Aid Industry Conference.

AP Guesspert Picks Cleveland Over Steelers.

Giants, Colts, 49ers Also Given Nod for Victories on Sunday

By JACK CLARY Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Despite a loss which shows that the Green Bay Packers are human after all, Coach Vince Lombardi's defending National Football League Champions don't plan on wasting too much time in sewing up a third straight Western Conference title.

"This loss will make a better team out of us," Lombardi said following Thursday's startling 23-14 loss to the Detroit Lions.

"Look out for us now." This last admonition can be interpreted as a dire warning from a man not given to making threats. Green Bay, leading second place Detroit by a full game, has two left with the last-place Los Angeles Rams and one with San Francisco.

Both Detroit and Green Bay are idle Sunday, which will give the Packers a chance to reclaim injured linebackers Dan Currie and Nelson Turburen and perhaps halfback Paul Hornung before meeting Los Angeles in Milwaukee on Dec. 2.

In the American Football League, the Denver Broncos Thursday all but eliminated themselves from the Western Division race by blowing a 13 point lead in the last 4 minutes and losing to the New York Titans 46-45. Denver now is 7-5 while division-leader Dallas which plays winless Oakland (0-10) Sunday, is 8-2.

This week's picks (last week 7 correct, 3 wrong; season, 65 correct 37 wrong, 4 ties):

NFL

New York over Washington—Healthy Giants, led by Y. A. Tittle passing and surplus of top receivers, have too much for battered "Skins, although Bobby Mitchell may be set to fly after Norm Snead's passes again.

Cleveland over Pittsburgh — Browns' fullback Jimmy Brown, apparently recovered from wrist injury, and passer Frank Ryan to topple erratic Steelers.

Baltimore over Chicago — Colts' defense outstanding lately. Ditto the passing of Johnny Unitas and the rushing of Lenny Moore.

San Francisco over St. Louis — 49ers have their attack set again, and despite a stiff Cardinal defensive wall, have more on the go than do Cards.

Minnesota over Los Angeles — Vikings' offense has been torrid, and it finally meets a team whose defense is weaker.

Philadelphia over Dallas — Upset of the week, but return of Pete Retzlaff to full-time duty and the presence of sprint star Frank Budd will give Cowboys pass defense the shakes. Dallas still without Eddie LeBaron at quarterback.

AFL

Buffalo over Boston — Jackie Kemp's experienced quarterbacking too much for Pats, who have to rely on Tom Yewcic now that Babe Parilli is out for the season. This one is tonight as Bills make frantic bid for Eastern title.

Houston over San Diego — Oilers after third straight Eastern title against punchless Chargers, who don't have anyone to match quarterbacking of George Blanda or running of Billy Cannon and Charlie Tolar.

Dallas over Oakland — Not by much, for Raiders forte lately has been defense but Texans still have that passing of Len Dawson and running of Abner Haynes and Curtis McCClinton.

When Crewman led all the way to win the rich Garden State over a sloppy track his time of 1:44 for the one mile and a sixteenth was the third fastest in the 10 runnings of the New Jersey feature.

Williamsport Edges Plains In 49-44 Tilt

Rick Fenstermaker scored nine points in the final period to pace Williamsport to a 49-44 win Wednesday night over the Plains at Mt. Sterling.

The Deers trailed 35-34 at the onset of the fourth quarter. Fenstermaker's output and two easy buckets by Rick Pond, set up by Bruce Willis, won the game for the Pickaway County team.

The Blue Devils, playing their first game of the season, were plagued by an inability to hit from the field. They also had several costly turnovers in the final frame.

Fenstermaker had 18 points for high game laurels. He scored on seven field goals and four charity tosses. Willis added 12 to the game winning total, all on field goals, and Pond tallied 11.

Haensel and Starr were the high point men for the host aggregate. They had 14 points each and were the only Blue Devils to score over eight.

Williamsport trailed 13-11 at the end of the first period, pulled to a 21-19 lead at halftime, and dropped to a 35-34 deficit going into the final canto.

Neither team experienced much accuracy from the charity stripe. The Deers connected on five of 14 attempts and The Blue Devils on four of 12. The losers out-rebounded Williamsport, grabbing 45, while the Deers salvaged 38.

Both teams used a 2-3 zone defense.

The Williamsport reserves won the initial contest of the twin bill, 32-29.

Tomorrow the Deers host Clarksville and November 30 they open Pickaway County league play at Darby.

Larry Hannahs To Start in Iowa State Line

Larry Hannahs, a former Circleville High School grid star, will be in the starting offensive line - up at Ames, Ia., when Iowa State faces Ohio University Saturday.

Hannahs, who has been a regular defensive end for the Cyclones, will move into the offensive line at right end.

In previous action on the offensive team he has caught one touchdown pass.

Iowa State, a member of the Big Eight, has won four and lost five this year. Ohio's Bobcats have lost only to Bowling Green in nine starts.

Wittenberg Places 6 On All-Conference '11'

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — A Baldwin-Wallace senior from Alliance, Tom Goosby, has been named to both the offensive and defensive All - Ohio Conference teams by the league's coaches.

Unbeaten Wittenberg places six players on the 22-man, 2-plateau dream team. Nine Ohio conference colleges failed to have a man along the first 22.

Listed as a first team defensive tackle was Roger Lalonde of Van Wert, a junior at Muskingum College.

George Wilson won the pro football title in 1957, his first year as coach of the Detroit Lions.

down by nightfall Saturday in college football.

Texas' 13-3 triumph over old foe Texas A&M in the top college game on the Thanksgiving Day program put the Longhorns in the Cotton Bowl and indirectly put Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl. Only minutes after Texas closed its season against the Aggies, Arkansas accepted a bid to play in New Orleans on New Year's Day.

Those two are secure. Wisconsin, which goes against Minnesota for the Big Ten title Saturday, needs only official conference sanction for a trip to the Rose Bowl. The same is true for Southern California, headed for the host spot in the Rose festival.

Louisiana State can all but secure a berth in the Cotton Bowl in its season finale Saturday. A victory over Nebraska would all but clinch a spot for Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl.

The probable line-up for the major year-end bowls now looks like this:

Rose Bowl—Southern California vs. Wisconsin.

Cotton Bowl—Texas vs. Louisiana State.

Sugar Bowl—Mississippi vs. Arkansas.

Orange Bowl — Oklahoma vs. Alabama.

Gator Bowl—Penn State vs. Miami (Fla.).

Miami (6-2) could take a long step toward the Gator Bowl berth tonight, against rugged Northwestern, once ranked the nation's best but loser of its last two.

Texas, ranked fourth nationally, trailed for three periods before nailing down the Southwest Conference title in its victory over Texas A&M. The Longhorns closed the regular season with 9-0-1 record, their first undefeated season in 39 years.

Arkansas (8-1) had an outside chance at the title and the spot in the Cotton Bowl until Texas won it, but immediately announced its acceptance of the Sugar Bowl bid.

The Razorbacks, ranked seventh nationally, close their regular season against Texas Tech Saturday.

Their likely Sugar Bowl opponent, unbeaten Mississippi, is idle until Dec. 1, as is Alabama, almost certain to get a bid for the Orange Bowl. Mississippi closes against Mississippi State, Alabama against Auburn.

Southern California, the nation's top ranked team with a 8-0 record, already has clinched the Big Six title. USC goes against UCLA (4-3) Saturday. Washington (6-1-2) goes against Washington State.

Louisiana State (7-1-1), considered a top candidate for the visiting role in the Cotton Bowl, is a heavy favorite against Tulane.

Penn State (No. 9) is at tough Pitt in the East's top game while tenth ranked Oklahoma is favored to add Nebraska to its list of five straight victims.

Some of the other top games include Yale at Harvard in their traditional meeting, while Dartmouth attempts to close out a perfect season against Princeton. Duke seeks the Atlantic Coast Conference title against North Carolina.

Colorado State U. suffered its 26th straight loss, 16-15 to Montana, in one of the few major games Thursday. Richmond beat William & Mary 15-3, North Carolina took Wake Forest 27-3, Tulsa defeated Wichita 21-6 and VMI won the Southern Conference crown 14-9 over Virginia Tech.

Darby Drops 56-50 Tilt at Pleasant View

Trojans Stay Within Striking Distance Until Final Seconds

The Darby Trojans overcame a seven point deficit to pull within one point of Pleasant View at halftime, but were outscored in the second half to drop a 56-50 thriller there Wednesday night.

Charlie Brown, Darby's ace point getter, paced the loser's attack and garnered high game honors with a 20-point output on four field goals and 12 charity tosses.

The Trojans trailed 14-7 at the end of the first period, rallied to pull within one point of knotting the score at halftime, then dropped to a 40-38 shortage going into the final canto.

The Pleasant View Panthers scored 16 points in the last quarter.

Foul shots kept the Pickaway County quintet in the game. Ned Reichelderfer's Trojans managed to score only 14 buckets from the field, compared to 21 for the host team. But they capitalized on 22 of 35 free throw attempts while the Franklin Countians hit 14.

Lamb was the top man for the South Central Ohio League team with 16 markers, all scored from well out on the floor. Pat Mogan had 12.

Little Dave Rowland, five-foot front inches and 130 pounds, hit four field goals and six charity tosses for the Trojans for a game total of 14. He was the only other Darby cager to break into the double figure column.

The game was actually closer than the final score indicates. With 50 seconds to go Darby was down three points and had a one and one chance at the free throw lane. The losers failed to make the charity toss and Pleasant View tallied a free throw seconds later and a field goal as the game ended.

Pleasant View is fielding a comparatively young team this year with only three seniors on the varsity. The Panthers won the reserve game 48-15.

It was the third loss in four outings for the Darby varsity. November 30 the Trojans host Williamsport in a Pickaway County League contest.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Whatever the Pittsburgh Steelers do on the field against the Cleveland Browns here Sunday, their appearance should mean good news at the ticket office—possibly a season record for home game attendance.

A regular season total of 426,886 fans pushed through the Stadium turnstiles to see the Browns last year—the first year in which the Browns played seven home games under an expanded National Football League schedule.

In six home games so far this year the attendance total has swelled to 368,441.

A warm rivalry is going between Pittsburgh and Cleveland, and games with the foes from down the turnpike have drawn consistently good crowds in recent years. Last year the crowd was 62,723; in 1960 it was 67,692, and in 1959 it was 68,563.

A 60,000 crowd in Sunday's final home game would push the season total a couple of thousand above the 1961 total.

Detroit Win Over Packers Is Lauded

DETROIT (AP)—Coach George Wilson was perhaps clutching at straws, and well entitled to it today after the tremendous victory of his Detroit Lions over the Green Bay Packers.

"This could wake up the Rams of 49ers so they'll help us," said Wilson hopefully. "Maybe we showed them how it's done."

Detroit's 26-14 whipping of the Packers at Tiger Stadium Thursday not only cracked Green Bay's 12-game winning streak but it sliced the margin between the ball League's Western Division two teams in the National Football League's Western Division race to one game.

Each has three games to play, none with each other. Green Bay had won the first meeting, 9-7, on a last minute field goal following a pass interception.

The Lions' ferocious defense never stopped pressuring Jim Taylor, passer Bart Starr and the touted Packer forwards. Taylor, the league's leading rusher, was stopped with a meager 47 yards. Starr, the No. 2 ranked passer, was buried with 112 yards in losses trying to throw.

AP Guesspert Picks Cleveland Over Steelers

Giants, Colts, 49ers Also Given Nod for Victories on Sunday

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Despite a loss which shows that the Green Bay Packers are human after all, Coach Vince Lombardi's defending National Football League Champions don't plan on wasting too much time in sewing up a third straight Western Conference title.

"This loss will make a better team out of us," Lombardi said following Thursday's startling 25-14 loss to the Detroit Lions. "Look out for us now."

This last admonition can be interpreted as a dire warning from a man not given to making threats. Green Bay, leading second place Detroit by a full game, has two left with the last-place Los Angeles Rams and one with San Francisco.

Both Detroit and Green Bay are idle Sunday, which will give the Packers a chance to reclaim injured linebackers Dan Currie and Nelson Torburen and perhaps halfback Paul Hornung before meeting Los Angeles in Milwaukee on Dec. 2.

In the American Football League, the Denver Broncos Thursday all but eliminated themselves from the Western Division race by blowing a 13 point lead in the last 4 minutes and losing to the New York Titans 46-45. Denver now is 7-5 while division leader Dallas which plays winless Oakland (0-10) Sunday, is 8-2.

This week's picks (last week 7 correct, 3 wrong; season, 65 correct 37 wrong, 4 ties):

NFL
New York over Washington — Healthy Giants, led by Y. A. Tittle passing and surplus of top receivers, have too much for battered Skins, although Bobby Mitchell may be set to fly after Norm Snead's passes again.

Cleveland over Pittsburgh — Browns' fullback Jimmy Brown, apparently recovered from wrist injury, and passer Frank Ryan to topple erratic Steelers.

Baltimore over Chicago — Colts' defense outstanding lately. Ditto the passing of Johnny Unitas and the rushing of Lenny Moore.

San Francisco over St. Louis — 49ers have their attack set again, and despite a stiff Cardinal defensive wall, have more on the go than do Cards.

Minnesota over Los Angeles — Vikings' offense has been torrid, and it finally meets a team whose defense is weaker.

Philadelphia over Dallas — Upset of the week, but return of Pete Retzlaff to full-time duty and the presence of sprint star Frank Budd will give Cowboys pass defense the shakes. Dallas still without Eddie Lebaron at quarterback.

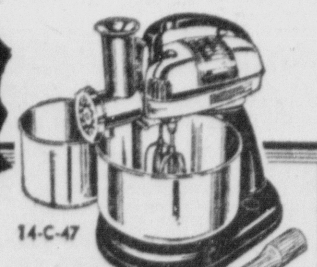

AFL
Buffalo over Boston — Jackie Kemp's experienced quarterbacking too much for Pats, who have to rely on Tom Yewic now that Babe Parilli is out for the season. This one is tonight as Bills make frantic bid for Eastern title.

Houston over San Diego — Oilers after third straight Eastern title against punchless Chargers, who don't have anyone to match quarterbacking of George Blanda or running of Billy Cannon and Charlie Tolar.

Dallas over Oakland — Not by much, for Raiders forte lately has been defense but Texans still have that passing of Len Dawson and running of Abner Haynes and Curtis McClinton.

When Crewman led all the way to win the rich Garden State over a sloppy track his time of 1:44 for the one mile and the sixteenth was the third fastest in 10 runnings of the New Jersey feature.

Williamsport Edges Plains In 49-44 Tilt

Rick Fenstermaker scored nine points in the final period to pace Williamsport to a 49-44 win Wednesday night over the Plains at Mt. Sterling.

The Deers trailed 35-34 at the onset of the fourth quarter. Fenstermaker's output and two easy buckets by Rick Pond, set up by Bruce Willis, won the game for the Pickaway County team.

The Blue Devils, playing their first game of the season, were plagued by an inability to hit from the field. They also had several costly turnovers in the final frame. Fenstermaker had 18 points for high game laurels. He scored on seven field goals and four charity tosses. Willis added 12 to the game winning total, all on field goals, and Pond tallied 11.

Haensel and Starr were the high point men for the host aggregate. They had 14 points each and were the only Blue Devils to score over eight.

Williamsport trailed 13-11 at the end of the first period, pulled to a 21-19 lead at halftime, and dropped to a 35-34 deficit going into the final canto.

Neither team experienced much accuracy from the charity stripe. The Deers connected on five of 14 attempts and The Blue Devils on four of 12. The losers out rebounded Williamsport, grabbing 45, while the Deers salvaged 38.

Both teams used a 2-3 zone defense.

The Williamsport reserves won the initial contest of the twin bill, 32-29.

Tomorrow the Deers host Clarksburg and November 30 they open Pickaway County league play at Darby.

Larry Hannahs To Start in Iowa State Line

Larry Hannahs, a former Circleville High School grid star, will be in the starting offensive line - up at Ames, Ia., when Iowa State faces Ohio University Saturday.

Hannahs, who has been a regular defensive end for the Cyclones, will move into the offensive line at right end.

In previous action on the offensive team he has caught one touchdown pass.

Iowa State, a member of the Big Eight, has won four and lost five this year. Ohio's Bobcats have lost only to Bowling Green in nine starts.

Wittenberg Places 6 On All-Conference '11'

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — A Baldwin-Wallace senior from Alliance, Tom Goosby, has been named to both the offensive and defensive All - Ohio Conference teams by the league's coaches.

Unbeaten Wittenberg places six players on the 22-man, 2-plateau dream team. Nine Ohio conference colleges failed to have a man along the first 22.

Listed as a first team defensive tackle was Roger Lalonde of Van Wert, a junior at Muskingum College.

down by nightfall Saturday in college football.

Texas' 13-3 triumph over old foe Texas A&M in the top college game on the Thanksgiving Day program put the Longhorns in the Cotton Bowl and indirectly put Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl. Only minutes after Texas closed its season against the Aggies, Arkansas accepted a bid to play in New Orleans on New Year's Day.

Those two are secure. Wisconsin, which goes against Minnesota for the Big Ten title Saturday, needs only official conference sanction for a trip to the Rose Bowl. The same is true for Southern California, headed for the host spot in the Rose festival.

Louisiana State can all but secure a berth in the Cotton Bowl in its season finale Saturday. A victory over Nebraska would all but clinch a spot for Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl.

The probable line-up for the major year-end bowls now looks like this:

Rose Bowl—Southern California vs. Wisconsin.

Cotton Bowl—Texas vs. Louisiana State.

Sugar Bowl—Mississippi vs. Arkansas.

Orange Bowl — Oklahoma vs. Alabama.

Gator Bowl—Penn State vs. Miami (Fla.).

Miami (6-2) could take a long step toward the Gator Bowl berth tonight, against rugged Northwestern, once ranked the nation's best but loser of its last two.

Texas, ranked fourth nationally, trailed for three periods before nailing down the Southwest Conference title in its victory over Texas A&M. The Longhorns closed the regular season with a 9-0-1 record, their first undefeated season in 39 years.

Arkansas (8-1) had an outside chance at the title and the spot in the Cotton Bowl until Texas won it, but immediately announced its acceptance of the Sugar Bowl bid. The Razorbacks, ranked seventh nationally, close their regular season against Texas Tech Saturday.

Their likely Sugar Bowl opponent, unbeaten Mississippi, is idle until Dec. 1, as is Alabama, almost certain to get a bid for the Orange Bowl. Mississippi closes against Mississippi State, Alabama against Auburn.

Southern California, the nation's top ranked team with a 8-0 record, already has clinched the Big Six title. USC goes against UCLA (4-3) Saturday. Washington (6-1-2) goes against Washington State.

Louisiana State (7-1-1), considered a top candidate for the visiting role in the Cotton Bowl, is a heavy favorite against Tulane.

Penn State (No. 9) is at tough Pitt in the East's top game while tenth ranked Oklahoma is favored to add Nebraska to its list of five straight victims.

Some of the other top games include Yale at Harvard in their traditional meeting, while Dartmouth attempts to close out a perfect season against Princeton. Duke seeks the Atlantic Coast Conference title against North Carolina.

Colorado State U. suffered its 26th straight loss, 16-15 to Montana, in one of the few major games Thursday. Richmond beat William & Mary 15-3, North Carolina took Wake Forest 27-3, Tulsa defeated Wichita 21-6 and VMI won the Southern Conference crown 14-9 over Virginia Tech.

Darby Drops 56-50 Tilt at Pleasant View

Trojans Stay Within Striking Distance Until Final Seconds

The Darby Trojans overcame a seven point deficit to pull within one point of Pleasant View at halftime, but were outscored in the second half to drop a 56-50 thriller there Wednesday night.

Charlie Brown, Darby's ace point getter, paced the loser's attack and garnered high game honors with a 20-point output on four field goals and 12 charity tosses.

The Trojans trailed 14-7 at the end of the first period, rallied to pull within one point of knotting the score at halftime, then dropped to a 40-38 shortage going into the final canto.

The Pleasant View Panthers scored 16 points in the last quarter.

Foul shots kept the Pickaway County quintet in the game. Ned Reichelderfer's Trojans managed to score only 14 buckets from the field, compared to 21 for the host team. But they capitalized on 22 of 35 free throw attempts while the Franklin Countians hit 14.

Lamb was the top man for the South Central Ohio League team with 16 markers, all scored from well out on the floor. Pat Mogan had 12.

Little Dave Rowland, five-foot front inches and 130 pounds, hit four field goals and six charity tosses for the Trojans for a game total of 14. He was the only other Darby cager to break into the double figure column.

The game was actually closer than the final score indicates. With 50 seconds to go Darby was down three points and had a one and one chance at the free throw lane. The losers failed to make the charity toss and Pleasant View tallied a free throw seconds later and a field goal as the game ended.

Pleasant View is fielding a comparatively young team this year with only three seniors on the varsity. The Panthers won the reserve game 48-15.

It was the third loss in four outings for the Darby varsity. November 30 the Trojans host Williamsport in a Pickaway County League contest.

Attendance Mark Possible For Browns

CLEVELAND (AP)—Whatever the Pittsburgh Steelers do on the field against the Cleveland Browns here Sunday, their appearance should mean good news at the ticket office—possibly a season record for home game attendance.

A regular season total of 426,886 fans pushed through the Stadium turnstiles to see the Browns last year—the first year in which the Browns played seven home games under an expanded National Football League schedule.

In six home games so far this year the attendance total has swelled to 368,441.

A warm rivalry is going between Pittsburgh and Cleveland, and games with the foes from down the turnpike have drawn consistently good crowds in recent years. Last year the crowd was 62,723; in 1960 it was 67,692, and in 1959 it was 68,563.

A 60,000 crowd in Sunday's final home game would push the season total a couple of thousand above the 1961 total.

Houston Harriers Win Columbus Race

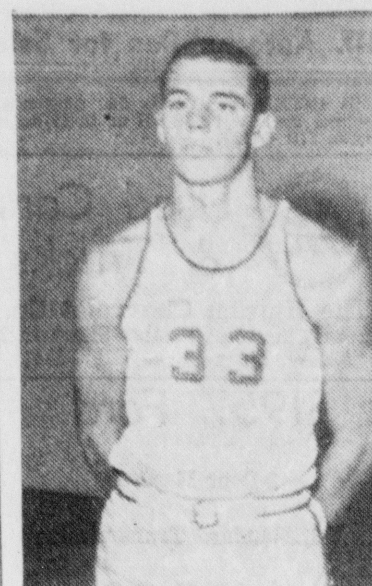

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Houston's Track Club, which gave up its AAU crown to enter the first 10,000-meter cross-country run sponsored by the U.S. Track and Field Federation, has a new title today.

The Houston club won Thursday's UTFF event with a low score of 23.

The individual winner in the grind of about 6 1/2 miles at Ohio State University's golf course was Leslie Hegedus, a displaced Hungarian who attends Central State College of Ohio.

Hegedus' time was 31:58.8. Right behind him were John Macy, Geoff Walker and Al Lawrence, all of the Houston club.

Favored Never Bend ran third in the 1962 Garden State Stakes yet by picking up $27,353 the Nasrullah colt set an earnings record for a 2-year-old with $402,969 for the year.

1913 FLOOD — This shot of the rampaging Scioto R'iver was snapped in 1913 before the river reached its crest and continued to flood Route 22 west of Circleville. The iron structure bridge was torn down a few years ago and replaced by the present one that spans the river.

Ross Countian Races Cops in Stolen Auto

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two patrolmen in suburban Fairfax chased down a Ross County youth they said sped toward Cincinnati Thursday night on busy U.S. 50 at speeds over 100 miles per hour in a stolen car.

Patrolman Dave Planitz said he and his partner, Harry Smith, saw the youth's car narrowly miss high speed collisions with several cars in the chase.

Planitz said, "We ran him west along the parkway at high speed until he ran into congestion and had to stop."

They arrested the youth at gunpoint. He was identified as Norman Kimerling, 22, of Bainbridge.

Planitz said he could not get a straight story from Kimerling on how he came to be driving the car stolen earlier Thursday in Highland County.

Hillsboro police reported, however, that the youth stole a car in Greenfield and wrecked it near Rocky Fork Lake. The owner, unidentified, stopped to help after the wreck, police said, but the youth jabbed an object in his ribs, said it was a gun and forced the man out while the youth sped away.

Planitz said officers could find no weapon in the car after the arrest.

Kimerling was held for questioning by Highland County authorities.

Ross Countian Races Cops in Stolen Auto

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two patrolmen in suburban Fairfax chased down a Ross County youth they said sped toward Cincinnati Thursday night on busy U.S. 50 at speeds over 100 miles per hour in a stolen car.

Patrolman Dave Planitz said he and his partner, Harry Smith, saw the youth's car narrowly miss high speed collisions with several cars in the chase. Planitz said, "We ran him west along the parkway at high speed until he ran into congestion and had to stop."

They arrested the youth at gunpoint. He was identified as Norman Kimerling, 22, of Bainbridge. Planitz said he could not get a straight story from Kimerling on how he came to be driving the car stolen earlier Thursday in Highland County.

Hillsboro police reported, however, that the youth stole a car in Greenfield and wrecked it near Rocky Fork Lake. The owner, unidentified, stopped to help after the wreck, police said, but the youth jabbed an object in his ribs, said it was a gun and forced the man out while the youth sped away.

Planitz said officers could find no weapon in the car after the arrest.

Kimberling was held for questioning by Highland County authorities.
